This donation will go towards the Biovision project “Sustainable Grazeland Management”.

Livestock farming provides a livelihood for many people in Samburu, northern Kenya. However, grazing land has become degraded and scarce due to droughts, overuse and deforestation. Biovision supports grazing land committees to ensure sustainable grazeland management and promotes the development of additional sources of income – invasive plants are processed into fuel and animal feed and then sold, for example.

Our common goal is to ensure that there is sufficient healthy food for all. Thank you!
